Last Modified on 08/01/2023 9:34 am MDT

MiTek is excited to launch the Customer Experience Site, a platform where customers communicate with Technical Support and search for self-serve knowledge articles. The Customer Experience Site houses all MiTek technical content, including software help and training videos, updates, new feature videos, training announcements, and information about MiTek machinery, including manuals, service bulletins, and training videos. When you have a technical question about a MiTek product, log in to the Customer Experience Site to find your answer!

MiTek encourages all customers to register today for the new platform.
